trict last night, two white mon were shot, and only the hardest work on the part of the police saved the lives of at least two negroes, one of whom is accessed of doing the shooting. The riot started in Fortieth Street, near Tenth Avenue. The fight raged until a strong force of men from the West Thirty-seventh Street police station cleared the street by the free use of their clubs.

The men who were shot are John F. Paulis, nineteen years old, of 642 Tenth Avenue, and James Hellbron, of $30 West Fortieth Street. Paulis was hit in the right breast, and received a flesh wound. A bullet passed through Hellbron's hip pocket, cutting the skin. The two negroes arrested are James E.

Harris, thirty-one years old, of 454 West Pifty-reventh Street, and John Foster, eighteen years old, of 318 West Thirtyseventh Street. Harris was identified by Paulis as the man who shot him, but neither of the prisoners had a revolver when searched at the police station.

A fight between a colored woman and two white men in West Thirty-sixth Street, near Tenth Avenue, started the Several colored men came to the on a bicycle, it is said, led a mob which pursued the men up Tenth Avenue and into Fortieth Street. There they were met by a mob of white men and a general fight began. Harris abandoned his bley-cle, according to the story told the police. and with his back to a building began firing into the crowd, which was pressing him hard. He emptied his revolver.

One shot passed through Hellbron's clothing, another struck Paulis, who was passing with two women, and who had tak-en no part in the riot. Paulis fell, and was assisted by his friends to the office of Dr. Lewis J. Stanck, of No. 354 West Fortieth Street, who dressed his wound.

When Harris' revolver was emptied he was set upon by the mob of white men, who, with shouts of "Lynch him!" and Kill the negro!" struck at him with sticks, stones, and all available weapons. His friends went to his assistance and a swayng crowd filled the street.
Precinct Detectice Pitts, who was coming down town on a Belt Line car, saw the struggling mass and jumped off. He forc-ed his way to Harris' side, and placing him under arrest, started with him to the sta-tion. He was followed by a crowd which threw stones and missiles at the prisoner and attempted several times to take him away from the detective. New Haven, Conn., July 21.-Salvatore Di Ciello is the Bluebeard, the Shah, the Sultan of Connecticut. He has wives scattered over the State. But he is a Bluebeard at a much reduced price. He himself says he pays only 50 cents each for the women he marries.

He is thirty years old, but eleven children swarm in his tumble-down house at Wallingford. There the police found three of his wives dwelling together in miserable unity.

Di Ciello was arrested Wednesday because he would not pay $60 he owes to Giovanni Gaudio. Plainly, this Sultan of Wallingford does not possess the highest moral sense.

"Why should I pay?" he asked, amazed. "With all this money I can buy 120 wives when I want them. And I shall want

Taken Over the Border and Shot. Tucson, Ariz., July 21 .- A Nogales despatch to the "Star" says that the grand jury has discovered that four Mexicans were recently kidnaped at Nogales, with the connivance of two officials of Santa Cruz county, and handed over to the Mexican authorities without due process of law. The four men kidnaped were summarily tried and shot by the Mexican authorities. An effort to indict District Attorney Harlow on account of the outrage failed. It is alleged that the Mexicans kidnaped were hard cases. The means used to dispose of them was with the understanding that the kidnaping and execution should be suppressed, as relations between Americans and Mexicans on both sides of the line, which are now cordial, might be disturbed WORLD'S END IN A STORM. Lightning Strikes Among Religious Enthusiasts.

Altoona, Pa., July 21.—During the progress of fervid religious exercises Wednesday at Clearfield Park, conducted by 500 whites and negroes. A force of a dozen Adventists, expecting the second coming of policemen was sent up from the station. Christ, there was a strange and terrifying experience of what many of the worshipers believed to be a manifestation of divine power and providence. The threatening aspect of the clouds during the early morning hours did not daunt the fervor of the religious enthusiasts, and when muttered

> At 10 o'clock a terrific storm broke, the thunder reverberating for miles and the lightning streaking the heavens with sharp and fitful flashes. Scores of the worshipers prostrated themselves on the ground or danced about in a delirium of religious joy. Some stood upright, with outstretched arms, waiting for the appearance of the flery charlots to sweep them upward from the earth, far above the summoil of the efements, to the empyrean time of the heavens. Mothers gathered their children about them them, and fathers assembled their families that none should be missing when the dread trump was heard.

> The climax was reached when a bolt of lightning struck into the midst of the crowd. Bricks from the home of the keepcrowd. Bricks from the home of the keep-er of the park came tumbling down, and a cloud of dust made the darkness and con-fusion more intense. The supplications of the Adventists rose higher than the roar of the thunder and outlisted it, for the storm the world not yet.

Dozens of women fainted from excite ment or electric shocks. The only ones still suffering from lightning are Mrs. George Glesson and her babe, the latter having been also hurt by flying sp from the park keeper's house. Leech Lake Indians Troused.

Walker, Minn., July 21. Chief Flatmouth, who has been considerably interest. ed in seeing the Cass Lake eviction order enforced, came to town in war paint and feathers yesterday, after hearing the proposition of Captain Mercer to Yevoke the or der. He was greatly excited over the news, and stated that he had called a council of all the Leech Lake Indians af the old agency on July 24 to protest against the revocation, as he considered the vation the property of his people, and that be did not think the Government wanted to keep faith with them. He looked ugly to keep faith with them. He looked ugly and acted as if his words meant trouble in the near future. Notice of the extension of the order for the eviction of settlers at Cass Lake for thirty days, to August 22, has been received. The Cass Lake people are much clated and II4 have signed requests for Jeases and permission to remain. It will require careful diplomacy to convince the Indians that the Government intends keeping fairly fifth them.

Soldier Bound for Manila Become a Bridegroom.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 21.-Monday night after midnight Recorder E. C. Ross was awakened within his home by a soldier from Camp Meade, who wanted a marriage license to wed a young woman of this city before his regiment left for the Philippines The recorder accompanied the soldier and his sweetheart to the office and issued the license to Fred W. Lemon, of Pontiac, Mich., and Florence V. McMeehan, of South Ninth Street, this city. They wer married at once, and at 4:30 the bride groom was in his camp ready to leave with the just battalion of the Nineteenth Regiment for the Philippines.

Officers of the battalion strongly denounce a story published this morning to the effect that the men were discouraged at the outlook and that there had been many desertions. One statement was that there had been forty desertions from Companies A. C. E. and L. comprising the Sections. panies A. C. E, and L, comprising the Sec ond Battalion. Captain French, acting ma jor, said regarding this statement:
"It is nonsense. There have not been that many desertions from the whole Nine-

Woman Fatally Beats an Aged Man. Chicago, July 21.-August Williams, an aged man living at 147 Wells Street, was fatally injured last midnight as the result of an attempt he made to kill several peopel with a revolver. Mrs. Lulu Getzelman, at whose husband Williams was shooting, beat Williams into insensibility with a club before she could be disarmed. Williams' skull was crushed and he was taken to the county hospital. Mrs. Getselman, husband, and Mrs. Augusta Gubelik, in whose home the affair happened, were ar-rested. Mrs. Getzelman admits clubbing Williams. A dispute over money matters caused the trouble.
